Using Your ACE Credit Recommendations

What is an ACE credit recommendation?

An ACE credit recommendation represents college-level equivalencies based on a review of workforce training, military training or occupations, and other sources of learning outside the college classroom, such as national exams and certifications. The ACE Review is carried out by a team of subject matter experts who currently serve as faculty at universities and community colleges. Together, they decide if the learning experience has similar

Designed for You

As a busy adult, you have a lot on your plate: family, work, social obligations, hobbies, bills to pay and other everyday things that can make returning to college seem out of reach. Grad TX degree completions programs are designed for people like you.

School on Your Schedule

To earn your bachelor's degree, you need a flexible program, an expert to advise you along the way, and the assurance that you can earn a degree on your schedule.

Success Stories
